Parkhaven at Home

We support people in their own home to manage everyday tasks as well as support for challenging times such as a return from a hospital stay.

Our staff are highly trained, permanent members of the Parkhaven Team, working across our range of nursing and dementia services. This means they are consistently able to provide the very best possible care, allowing for strong relationship building with our clients, providing stability and routine.

“I was struggling to find the right kind of support for my husband, until I meet the team at Parkhaven at Home. The team has gone above and beyond helping support my husband and myself at home when I’ve not been well enough to care for him myself.”
